Jessica Hernandez
NeoNatal Nurse

To whom it may concern,

I am interested in applying for the position of a NeoNatal Nurse at your highly respected facility in Modesto, California. Currently, I am enrolled at Ripon High School as a Junior who is not only involved in the Leadership program, but has also been a part of our school's yearbook program as an editor. I am confident in my communication and collaboration skills and feel that my quick learning ability and great compassion all work together, ultimately allowing me to be a great candidate for this position.

I have been interested in the medical field for the past several years, and have just recently been drawn to the pregnancy and delivery side of nursing. I've always found a great passion for helping and supporting others, and love working with children of all ages, especially newborns. In addition, I feel that helping mothers throughout their entire maternal journey would fulfil my compassionate and supportive view of life that I truly hope to obtain daily in my future.

Being that I'm applying to become a NeoNatal Nurse, my great interest in the medical world and curiosity as to what's involved within it pushes me even harder to work towards this goal. I've always been one to go above and beyond, leading me to constantly be educating myself as to what I hope becomes my future through online research as well as communicating with family friends who also work within this field as nurse practitioners.

Based on my great determination and well desired traits listed above, I feel that I am confident in my abilities to be a great asset to your program.

Thank you for your time and consideration. I look forward to speaking with you further.

Sincerely,

Kayla Pankey
